

Grange Bart. Shanklin

(Answer)

Idle of Wight June 21st

My dear Mr. Garrison

128

My friend Mr. Steadman informs me that you do me the honour of wishing to see me - I need not say that I am very desirous of having the pleasure and honour of a personal interview with one who has laboured so long and so heroically in the cause of human progeny of liberty and of enfranchisement

I am sorry that owing to a misunderstanding on my part I could not come to the meeting in London this afternoon where I believe you are to be present - but I trust that this mischance will not cause me to miss you altogether

I remain in the City of Night till Tuesday or Wednesday when I proceed to Bath to be present at the marriage of one of our leading writers in the women's suffrage movement - Miss Lillian Ashworth. If you should feel inclined to visit the City of Night during the next few days I should be charmed to see you here if you could visit me for a few hours. The Island is a lovely spot - and looking at it best just now, and it is well with a visit of you do not already know it.

It is one of the most spots of English ground -

If your plans do not prevent of our excursion I would come to London on Tuesday or Wednesday for the purpose of meeting you before I proceed to Bath. Or if you should should re-visit Manchester I should be glad to meet you there - I am yours faithfully Lydia & Becker
